Surplus Warehouse Opens Monday

Brown Answers Blast

BY TROY MARTIN

Amid hot words, charges and counter charges, a surplus commodity distribution warehouse is scheduled to open in Canyon Monday morning in spite of the fact that Randall County commissioners don't want it.

James Cason, Amarillo, State Department of Public Welfare supervisor, said the warehouse will open at 8 o'clock Monday morning at 1605-A Fourth Avenue.

Potter County got into the act Monday when Potter's Judge E. H. Foster accused Randall County commissioners of ignoring certain facts when they refused to participate in the program.

A three-man welfare team from the state and federal governments were told last week by Randall County commissioners court that Randall County will not participate.

County Judge Carroll Brown told the group that the county does not need such a distribution center. He said it would cost the county $1,000 a month and that Randall can take care of its indigents much more cheaply.

Judge Foster wants Randall County to cooperate with Potter County in financing a commodity warehouse which Potter County already has in operation.

"They are just trying to make us pay a part of their bill for something we don't need," Judge Brown charged Tuesday morning.

On Randall and Potter cooperation in operating a surplus warehouse, there have been conflicting statements from most of the welfare workers involved.

W. M. Herndon, DPW director of the commodity distribution, has even contradicted himself.

In a March 13 letter to Judge Foster, Herndon said it would be "entirely satisfactory" for Potter and Randall County to jointly operate a commodity distribution program of its own.

"I am of the opinion that further consideration could be given making available some USDA funding to Randall County for this purpose," he continued.

Monday of last week, Randall County commissioners again put the question of such a joint undertaking to Bob Glosson, Austin, representative of DPW.

Glosson left the room for a conversation with Herndon by telephone. He returned a short time later and told the group that such an arrangement would not be permitted.

By telephone Tuesday of this week, Herndon told The Canyon News that it would be all right for Randall and Potter Counties to share a joint distribution program but that the federal government would have no part in funding it.

"Randall has not seen fit to do anything," he declared.

Herndon said that the USDA funding can be used in counties not already operating distribution warehouses and since Potter already operates one no federal funds would be available to Randall County were it to go into partnership with Potter County.

He said his department is bound by a federal court order to open a distribution center in Randall County by June 30. "We will move in and operate the program and the county won't have anything to do with it," Herndon said.

Judge Brown was critical of DPW's decision to put the warehouse in Canyon instead of South Amarillo.

In the meantime, Cason is just as certain that a warehouse is needed in Randall

Circumstances Unexplained In Amarillo Youth's Death

An Amarillo youth died under as yet unexplained circumstances Tuesday night at the Wagner ranch 2½ miles southwest of Canyon.

Dead is James Alden "Jim" Snyder, 19 years old, 1218 South Alabama, Amarillo.

Deputy Sheriff Reedy McDonald quoted guests at the ranch as saying that young Snyder and Mrs. T. J. Wagner III, who lives at the ranch and at 3200 Hayden in Amarillo, were swimming in the ranch pool just before the tragedy.

Snyder was holding a rubber hose running water into the pool. Rip Blackburn, 4415 Olsen, Amarillo, another guest, came by and Snyder asked him to turn on the lights at the bottom of the pool.

Just as the lights went on Snyder leaped from the water screaming and then sank to the bottom of the pool, according to McDonald's report.

Mrs. Wagner told Blackburn to turn the lights off because Snyder had been shocked. She went to Snyder and got him to the surface and with Blackburn's help got him out of the pool.

Jim McElreath, the ranch caretaker, was summoned and he administered artificial respiration. At this time, acccording to the report, Snyder was breathing but was vomiting.

Two Canyon physicians were summoned and went to the scene along with a LaGrone ambulance. They advised officers that Snyder was dead when they arrived.

Officers said Mr. and Mrs. Hollis "Hugh" Russell III of 3110 West Seventh, Amarillo, also were present.

A pathologist at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Tuesday after an autopsy said the death was accidental but circumstances leading to the accident were unexplained.

He said Snyder was killed when he regurgitated and aspirated. The doctor ruled out drowning as a cause of death.

He said some excitement caused by an undetermined stimulus could have caused the young man to regurgitate and strangle.

Funeral arrangements for the accident victim were pending late Wednesday afternoon.

Randall Co. Harvest Yield Dry, Heavy

John Brazzil, Randall County Agent, described the area wheat harvest as progressing rapidly. "By the end of the week the dryland crop is going to be out."

"There has been a minor start on irrigated wheat. It will be another 10 days before we have made much effort in irrigated wheat," Brazzil said.

"It's my impression from visiting with the farmers that it is in good condition for storage. The moisture content is running from 11-13 percent and the test weight is 60 lbs. and above," he stated.

Robert E. Caldwell at Consumer Co-op described the grain brought in as "dry, running nice and dry with the moisture standing at 12-13 percent. It's running Number 1 at about 60 pounds or better."

According to Caldwell, the

Probation Is Revoked

A mother of three small daughters ranging in age from 5 to 11 was sentenced to three years in prison here Monday on forgery charges.

June Sheets, 30 years old, an itinerant, stood dry-eyed in 181st District Court and heard her probation revoked by Judge Don Dean.

Judge Dean explained that he had no choice in the matter since Mrs. Sheets had been given probation last year in 47th District Court and was subsequently convicted in Dallas County on forgery charges.

Mrs. Sheets was sentenced to three years in prison in Dallas County. Judge Dean ruled that the sentence here would run concurrently with the Dallas County sentence.

Mrs. Sheets said she bought groceries on one occasion and on another occasion used her sister-in-law's credit card to buy Christmas presents for her small daughters.

She said her husband works as a store manger but has a hard time making a living. She said her husband will keep the children while she serves her term in prison.

School Parking Critical

Canyon High School is in need of additional parking space, School Supt. Jerry Jacobs told the board of education Tuesday night in a regular meeting.

He said additional dressing room space is also needed but that time will not permit its construction before next school term begins.

Jacobs told the board that the additional parking area could be provided by additional paving which would also improve drainage at the rear of the building.

He said he does not know how much the parking space preparation would cost but will present figures at future meeting, possibly a special meeting to be called within the next few days.

He noted that the school can issue time warrants up to $60,000 to provide money for the parking and dressing room improvement. Jacobs said school officials are considering selling parking stickers for the coming year.

Jacobs also presented a master plan for future expansion of the high school facility. The plan was prepared by school architects, Clayton Shiver and Bob Megert.

The superintendent told the board that the new junior high school building will be ready except for the new gymnasium and the girls' dressing room by the time school opens in August.

Jacobs said the corner stone of the old building has been removed and nothing was found in it. There had been reports that some coins were placed in the stone when the building was constructed in 1923.

The corner stone will be worked into the campus decor near the flag pole, Jacobs reported.

Board President Dudley Moore said it is important to retain the corner stone since it is a part of the history and tradition of the community. It is inscribed with the names of board members at the time the building was constructed.

G. G. Foster, president of the board at the time, was the father-in-law of J. O. Parker, presently a member of the board and himself a past board president.

The superintendent reported that the state has approved the co-op portion of the homemaking course and a building trades course.

Under new provisions for homemaking students they will be allowed to work part time at related jobs receiving school credit.

The building trades lab will be in the building on the west side of the court house square formerly occupied by Western Auto Store.

Application for a course in feed lot operation and management was denied because of shop space limitations.

"We have 2,000 square feet of floor space and they require 3,400," Jacobs reported. "I feel like they penalized us on a technicality."

Jacobs noted that on a previous estimate of the current budget it had appeared there would be a $29,000 deficit in the operating fund and a $58,000 deficit in the interest and sinking fund.

"Right now the estimate shows a deficit of $42,000 in the interest and sinking fund and a $10,000 deficit in the operating fund," Jacobs said. He explained that

Banquet Slated

A banquet honoring Governor Preston Smith and Congressman Bob Price for their work in securing a $3 million deed to Amarillo Air Force Base property for Texas State Technical Institute will be held June 25.

There will be a reception at the Civic Center at 6:30 p.m. followed by the banquet at 7:30.

Tickets are $7.50 each. The affair is sponsored by Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. For tickets call 374-5238 or write to the Amarillo Chamber in the Amarillo Building.

Coin May Not Have Woman, But... Wow!

Tearing down junior high school buildings may be a lot of hard work on hot summer days, but it can be a pretty profitable business if a fellow keeps his eyes open.

And Rick Watson kept his eyes open.

Watson, a WTSU student from San Antonio, is working for Renee Raymond, tearing down the old Canyon Junior High School.

While working on the roof of the junior high, he spotted what appeared to be a silver coin lying on the roof.

"I thought it was one of those tin coins with a naked lady on the back," he said.

However, on closer examination he found that the coin was a Spanish gold piece, minted in 1792. "It was worth 100 revas in Spanish money when it was minted. I don't know how much that is in American money," he said.

"If the coin is authentic, it may be worth $500," Watson said.

He took the coin to Wes Miller of the Saga Food Service who is a coin enthusiast and he made the estimate.

"We don't know where the coin came from, but we think it might have been stolen from someone's collection and then thrown up onto the school building before anyone found out who had it," he said.

"It had been up there for a real long time because it was so tarnished it looked silver instead of gold," he added.

Watson and a fellow construction worker, Mike Balser, also from San Antonio, also found a 1912 Barber quarter on the roof of the building.

"We think it's probably worth about $4," Watson said.

Watson is a numismatist by hobby himself, and has a collection of American coins in San Antonio.

"The Spanish coin is quite a boost to my collection. I don't have any other foreign coins or any others that are worth that much," he said.

"I've found several dollars worth of quarters in the school around the lockers. Some of them date back to 1935, but they aren't very valuable," he said.

Watson plans to hold on to the Spanish coin for a while.

"I'll probably send it to my dad in San Antonio and have him put it in a safe deposit box. I'll keep it until I'm an old man and sell it when the price is right," he laughed.

'71 Goal Set For Sound, Light Show

Fall 1971 has been set as the target date for production of a sound and light show at Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon to supplement the summer production of 'TEXAS' according to Mrs. Ples Harper, public relations manager for the show.

The Panhandle Heritage Foundation, which produces 'TEXAS', has made application to the Texas Fine Arts Commission for funds to underwrite this new project.

According to Mrs. Harper, the Commission which is appointed by the governor, has certain amounts of money which is to be spent on new artistic efforts in communities around the state.

The request has been heard by the commission and the production placed on an approved list. However, requests are placed in sequence and the request for funds was made so late, it may be cut off the list.

The sound and light show is scheduled to be produced to fill a time gap when tourists will still be flocking in to the Panhandle area and at a time when universities will be opening their doors earlier in the summer.

The 'TEXAS' production will have to adjust its schedule in accordance with the Court Meets, Opens Bids

Randall County Commissioners' Court convened Monday just long enough to open bids for mowers for precincts one and two.

A regular meeting had not been scheduled, but it was called to the attention of the Commission that announcement had been made for opening of bids on mowing equipment and a meeting must be held.

Bids were submitted by Davis Implement of Hereford, Amarillo Ford Tractor, Inc., Deckard Equipment of Amarillo, Harrison Implement of Amarillo and Oglesby Implement of Hereford.

Bids were taken under consideration and no further action will be taken until a later session.

Following reading of the minutes of the previous session, the Court adjourned.

Plans Made For Canyon Celebration

Canyon Chamber of Commerce this week began laying plans for a week-long celebration to be highlighted by a parade and the world championship pony express tournament in July.

Tentative plans call for Canyon Days to start July 20 and run through July 25. A barbecue and a parade along with the pony express tournament would terminate the festivities.

Jimmy Plain, secretary of Randall County Sheriff's Posse which sponsors the tournament, has been appointed parade marshal.

Eddie Holcomb will be in charge of the barbecue.

Further plans will be announced in the near future.

Officials To Dallas For MVC Decision

Ex-Students Association of West Texas State University has chartered a 26-passenger plane to carry university officials, exes and members of the news media to Dallas for meeting of Missouri Valley Conference on Saturday.

The conference is expected to take action on the pending admittance of WT into the Missouri Valley Conference at sessions in the Hilton Inn, 11 a.m.

Announcements resulting from the conference meeting will be made at a joint Missouri Valley-West Texas Press conference to be held Saturday afternoon, 2 p.m. also at the Hilton Inn.

Representing WT at the meeting will be Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the University; Cloyce Box of Dallas, chairman of the Board of Regents; Jack Edmondson, chairman of the WT Athletic Committee and Director of Athletics, Joe Kerbel.

If voted into the conference, Edmondson will become the WT faculty representative to the MVC.

Formal announcements made from the conference will come from Conference President, Bill Miller, faculty representative from North Texas State University.

News Information Director, Jack Donovan, and Sports Information Director, Tommy Bryant, will arrive in Dallas Friday evening to make arrangements for the WT delegation.

Fire Destroys J.D. Brock Storehouse

Fire Chief Jack Jennings and a member of the Canyon Fire Department work at the scene of a blaze which destroyed a storehouse behind the J. D. Brock home, 2107 8th Ave., Wednesday morning.

A four-room storage house at the rear of the J. D. Brock home, 2107 8th Ave., was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning.

Four units of the Canyon Fire Department answered a call placed by Mrs. Brock.

The blaze was discovered by the Brock grandchildren who were playing in the yard. The youngsters, Tommy, 5 and Kurt, 3, ran to their mobile home two doors away to tell their mother, Mrs. Robert Brock.

J. D. Brock arrived on the scene at that moment and shouted to his wife to call the fire department.

Mrs. Brock said, "I was at the back door talking a few minutes earlier and there was no smoke. I didn't hear an explosion. But when they hollered the back yard was filled with flames."

The 16 x 20 foot stucco building contained plumbing fixtures, aluminum, refrigerators and some chests of clothing, according to Mrs. Brock.

She stated that the building may be insured but the Catfish farming is coming to the front in the Canyon area.

We carried a story on Leroy Lamb's operation west of town and another catfish ranch is taking shape on the property formerly owned by Dale Martin east of town.

The former promises to be a sizeable operation.

I've been told that a good operator can clear as much as $1,000 an acre on catfish.

The next thing I'd like to see is a restaurant here specializing in catfish and hush puppies. With fresh catfish available we ought to see such an enterprise in the near future.

I hope the people of Canyon realize what a tribute has been paid the Canyon school system. It was picked as one of a dozen pilot schools in the state for a specialized education program provided in a statute passed by the last legislature.

Almost every school in Texas--including Amarillo--was after this program but Canyon was one of a dozen chosen. It is just another benefit the community accrues from having West Texas State University here.

Canyon school system has an excellent administration and a dedicated board of education.

I received an invitation to come to Dallas Saturday for a press conference called by members of the Missouri Valley Conference at which the MVC will make an announcement concerning West Texas State University's admission.

I am convinced that the news will be favorable. I just can't see the MVC or anyone else inviting a plane load of newsmen, who will spend about $1,000 on the trip, down to Dallas just to tell us we've been turned down.

Potter County's Judge E. H. Foster had some remarks about Randall County Commissioners Court and the surplus commodity program Monday.

Judge Foster wants Randall County to share in the expense of operating Potter County's warehouse. The Randall Court says our county doesn't need it.

I think Judge Foster should have spoken to the issue in a meeting of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission where it would have been relevant instead of at a Potter County commissioners court meeting.

The people of Randall County will take a dim view of anyone from Potter County telling them how to run their business. It only serves to widen the gap.

And there are some points on which Potter and Randall and Canyon and Amarillo MUST cooperate.

There is a continuing effort by the radical left to liken the burning and looting carried on by their cohorts to the American Revolution and resistance to Hitler in Germany until the collapse of his regime.

People who advance this line of logic simply aren't thinking. There is no comparison at all.

Anyone who wants to dissent in this country can do peacefully without fear of reprisal. He has elected officials from the court house to the White House--his congressman, his senator, his governor--to whom he can complain if he doesn't like the way things are going.

Our government derives its power from the governed. There is legal recourse for any grievance.

Neither pre-Revolutionary Americans nor citizens of Nazi Germany were represented by a constituent assembly. Without legal avenues of redress, they were justified in resisting illegal government.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The women's liberation movement seems to be gaining momentum daily. There is one fact the liberators seem to have overlooked in their militant zeal for quality: The Creator Himself made quite a bit of difference between men and women to begin with.

Few people will deny that the greatest need in America today is happier homes; the home is still the foundation of society. We are a restless, rootless, wandering people, ever searching for peace and contentment. Man seldom finds these precious qualities away from his own fireside. If he does not have a good wife willing to work and sacrifice to create them for him, he is not likely to find them at all.

Every normal person's goal is happiness. Wealth, status, and position do not necessarily bring happiness. On the contrary they usually increase one's pressures, and demand more relaxation and understanding at home.

The average woman may achieve the ultimate in a successfull career, but she is not likely to be happy unless she has a husband and children. This, of course, requires the happy business or professional woman to maintain two careers simultaneously. Few men would even attempt such a herculean task.

There are several vital factors being ignored by the equal-rights advocates. Primary among them is one of the basic elements of the free-enterprise system: The executive who pays the bills and assumes the responsibilities needs to be free to make his own decisions.

When an employer is not free to hire men or women, black, white, or brown as he sees the need, then it is no longer a free enterprise. If he is forced to choose employees acccording to their sex or color instead of their abilities, his firm's productivity is likely to suffer. This adds more fuel to the deadly fires of inflation and discontent.

That there is discrimination in the matters of employment and salaries for women is an undisputed fact. Employers would probably be happy to publish the reasons if given the opportunity.

Everyone knows it is expensive to train new personnel. The same expensive training must be given to both men and women employees. Many men remain for 40 years or more with the same firm they join upon high-school or college graduation. But what about Betty Coed?

Women employees get married; they have babies; their husbands get transferred; or they may simply decide they prefer to stay at home and make a home for their families. How are employers to absorb the losses on the expensive training given short-term women employees?

God commanded that men should cherish their wives, and that women should obey their husbands. When this commandment is obeyed, women get the best of the bargain.

The average women probably prefers to sit by her cozy fireside, and let her menfolk go out and battle the elements, the "wolf," and other threats to her security.

Women who demand "equality" with men should be subject to the draft, denied child support, alimony, and similar privileges their sex status grants them. They might discover they had more to lose than gain.

Men and women are like fire and water: Both are essential elements as long as they are co-existant. But when they attempt to occupy the same space they are mutually destructive.

It is highly unlikely that the "inequities" of divine Creation can be rectified by human legislation.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Congratulations to the people on East-East 9th Avenue for their display of our country's colors on last Flag Day, Sunday, June 14. By the term, "East-East," I refer to the area bounded on the west by 23rd Street (Highway 87) and on the east by 28th Street (the Western boundary of Pioneer Estates), on the north by 4th Avenue and on the south by 15th Avenue (the south edge of town, at least out here). This gives us a little Southeast segment of Canyon for quick sampling purposes, i. e., the easternmost five blocks of these 12 avenues. Furthermore, this report concerns flag displays of residences--not of businesses.

But to continue. More flags were displayed on the 9th Avenue segment than any of the others--a total of 10 flags, for an average of 2 flags per block (but still a long way from spectacular, eh?). Second was 11th Avenue with 7; 2 avenues had 3, 2 had 2, 3 had 1, and a total of 3 of these avenue segments displayed no flags at all.

Of these last 3 avenues, the most painfully obvious was 4th, which, from the top of the hill where the Spur turns north clear into the 23rd Street (Highway 87) intersection, displayed not one single flag in front of a residence. This stretch, of course, in addition to the Washington Street and some Happy traffic, carries quite a volume of tourist traffic to and from Palo Duro Canyon, and is certainly one place where we should be doubly careful of our exterior grooming, if I may coin.

I should think that more people would take pride in flying our country's beautiful flag, at least on the appropriate holidays (see also the last paragraph, below). If we insist on being a SILENT majority, the least we can do is stand up and be counted (another cliche, but nonetheless applicable); we still wouldn't have to say anything, and it wouldn't really cost much in time, trouble, or expense.

I cannot close without mentioning one fine gentleman on 9th Avenue who flies his flag every single day of the year, except, of course, in inclement weather or when he is out of town. I don't know whether he does a great many other things which might be considered "patriotic," but one thing is certain: Any time between early morning and sunset on an ordinary day, you can drive by his house and see, there in his front yard near the curb, the flag of the United States of America floating proudly on the West Texas breeze!

Yours faithfully,
Name revealed on request.

Mead Drawings To Grace Program

Ben Carlton Mead, an artist who grew up in the Texas Panhandle, has done the illustrations for the 1970 Souvenir Program for the 'TEXAS' musical-drama. His drawings evolved from memories of a West Texas childhood, recollections of tales by old-timers, and hundreds of sketches made over the years.

He remembers the great Palo Duro Canyon as a very early thrill, and has sharp recollections of the prairie as it was when he went with his father freighting lumber from their yard in Lamesa.

Sometimes the trips lasted for several days following the Santa Fe line which was building south. They went through sand, (shinnery) and miles of prairie dog towns, and roamed far from the wagons hunting rabbit, doves, quail, prairie chicken and curlew to cook in the iron skillet at sundown.

After graduating from Amarillo High School and the Art Institute in Chicago, Mead returned to roam and sketch West Texas: pole corrals, log barns, the skeleton of a horse on the prairie for examples. Through the years he has used these early sketches as bases for his book and magazine illustrations. He was particulary intrigued by Tascosa in the thirties, because it still retained the look of the early days at that time.

His pictures include scenes from the Palo Duro Canyon, the Canadian River, Old Tascosa, Headquarters of the JJ's (near Claude), Ragtown (Mobeetie).

Mead is the fifth artist to do illustrations for the 'TEXAS' Souvenir Programs. The book each year has pictured the west through the eyes of a different artist, and the programs are becoming collector's items.

2nd Session Tennis Camp Opens Sunday

The first session of the West Texas State Tennis Camp was completed Saturday and the second session is slated to start Sunday afternoon and run through Saturday, June 27.

The final session will be July 26 through Aug. 1.

"We had 72 youngsters for the first session and I would consider it a succcess," said clinic director David Kent, who is the tennis coach at West Texas State University.

Kent says there are still a few openings for both the second and third sessions.

Kent, who is assisted by Amarillo High School tennis coach Roland Ingram and 15 camp counselors, said parents reporting in Sunday should go to the new Activities Center, just south of the tennis courts, after 1 p.m.

The campers will be given instruction on West Texas State University's tennis complex, which consists of 10 Uni-Turf and four laykold courts. Each camper will be given individual attention, plus sessions on strategy, drills and training methods.

Expenses are $125, which includes room, board, instruction and all activities. A $25 deposit is due with each application. A tennis shop will be available for buying equipment. Camp insurance is included. There will be no dating and campers can't leave the camp.

Living Textbook Workshop Set

Plans are in the making for the eighth annual Living Textbook Workshop at WTSU, sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News Publishing Company in conjunction with the WTSU education department.

The workshop will be July 26-29, according to Dr. Jim Kidd, associate professor of education at the university.

"The purpose of the conference is to help area teachers utilize the newspaper as an instructional tool in the classroom," he explained.

Area teachers have already been contacted about the workshop and have made application for scholarships for the workshop.

The workshop is conducted on a scholarship-allotted basis and only those teachers allotted scholarships will be able to attend.

The scholarships cover the cost of room and meals, he said.

Electric Air Conditioning?

NO QUESTION ABOUT IT !!!

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY
Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST
Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low . . . no extra installation costs, either!

NO LOSS OF EFFICIENCY BECAUSE OF ALTITUDE
Our area is several thousand feet above sea level yet electric air conditioning is not adversely affected. It does its cooling job as efficiently as if it were at sea level. An important point to consider when buying.

CHOICE OF BRANDS
There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES
Only electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

COMPLETE SERVICE
The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

Canyon School Chosen For Special Education Program

Canyon school has been chosen as one of a dozen pilot schools in the state for a special education program for children with language and/or learning disabilities.

School Superintendent Jerry Jacobs said the program will be for children 6, 9 and 12 years of age with the option to include 15 year olds. He said Canyon probably will include only the first three age groups this year.

The project will continue for three years until it finally encompasses all age groups.

The pilot schools are being set up under a new special education law passed by the last session of the state legislature.

Under the law the program goes into effect for all Texas public schools in 1973-74 school year.

"The primary reason we wanted to get into this thing now as so we could go ahead in the program and start helping our kids immediately," said Jacobs. "This ought to put us considerably ahead of the game when the full plan goes into operation."

Jacobs said that if Canyon school has a program for the first three age groups, the school will get 7 or 8 additional teachers and three or four teacher aides. The state will pay the state schedule salaries for these teachers.

In addition, the school district will receive $35 per pupil in the program for pupil appraisal service, $30 per pupil for special material and 4 percent for the estimated program budget for consultants.

The superintendent said some of this money can be used for diagnostic help.

Jacobs said all the students in the first six grades will be screened to determine which need the special program. He expects to find 90 such students or about 15 percent of the student body.

"This will encompass anything from a major to a minor disability," Jacobs said. He noted that such students will get individual attention and the advantage of a special instructional program.

The superintendent said members of the West Texas State Universsity faculty and PESO personnel assisted him in preparing Canyon's application to be included among the pilot schools.

Pilot schools, other than Canyon, include Arlington, Austin, Comal, near New Braunfels; Ector County Independent School District at Odessa; Judson School, located in Bexar County; Schertz-Cibolo, near San Antonio; Marshall, New Braunfels, San Angelo, Seguin and Sherman.

Lee Lewis, trackster from Houston Kashmere, signed with the WTSU team this week. He visited in Canyon with WT Coach Bob Kitchens last weekend.

Kitchens Signs Houston Sprinter For WT Team

Lee Lewis, a standout sprinter for Houston Kashmere, has signed an athletic scholarship agreement with West Texas State University.

Lewis, who had agreed to atttend WTSU during a weekend visit, returned the signed scholarship agreement to coach Bob Kitchens.

"Signing Lee is the biggest thing to happen to our program," said Kitchens, "We consider him one of the outstanding sprint prospects in the nation."

Lewis, who didn't compete in track until his junior year at Kashmere, turned in a 9.4 100-yard dash clocking this past spring. He had a best of 21.5 in the 220 and ran a 47.5 leg on Kashmere's mile relay.

An injury prevented Lewis from reaching the state meet this spring. His 9.4 clocking equalled the top time recorded by a Texas schoolboy this spring.

Lewis, son of the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Lewis, maintained a B average in school. He will be a political science major at West Texas State.

Lewis is the third standout sprinter signed this spring by Kitchens. He earlier inked Maryland State sprint champion Bill Mason and Tracy Dickson of Lockney.

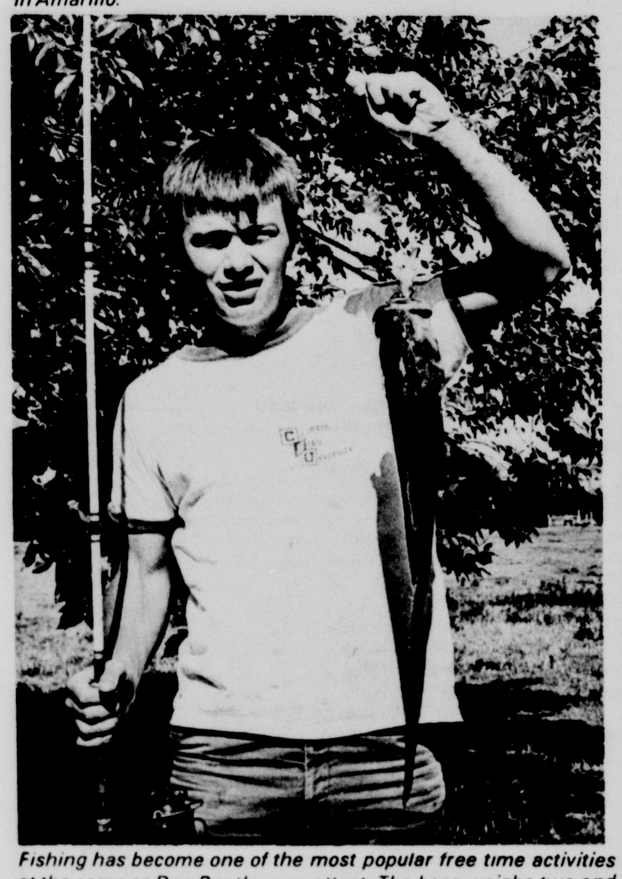
Near-by Camp Don Harrington Attracts Canyon Boy Scouts And Leaders

BY DIANNE BROADDUS

Sunday afternoon about 150 Boy Scouts, including 15 from Troop 66 in Canyon, will converge on Camp Don Harrington for the second session of summer camping.

The first session began this week under the direction of Jerry Outlaw of Amarillo, camp director. No Canyon troops are attending this session, but several members of the staff are Canyon residents.

Don Harrington staff members Mack Bentley (pointing), John Denton and David Low (standing) plan a compass hike with campers Kevin Hart, Timmy Ross and Steven Henry of Troop 27 in Amarillo.



Fishing has become one of the most popular free time activities at the camp as Don Bentley can attest. The bass weighs two and a half pounds and was caught in Palo Duro Creek on the camp site.

Craig Bellah is serving as the camp chaplain and Bob Bentley is the program director. Other staff members include Don Bentley, cooking specialist; Mack Bentley, commissioner aid; John Denton, who helps with Trading Post; David Low, commission aid; Gary McBride, rowing instructor; Steve Napper, rifle instructor; and Kent Zevely, dining hall director.

Troop 66, under the direction of Lee Roy Moreland, will be working on several merit badges while at camp, including the Cooking, Camping, Pioneering, Nature, Conservation of Natural Resources, Rowing and Swimming.

"The boys will be recieving swimming instruction of some kind for two hours a day," Moreland said.

Three of the boys will be working on Second Class advancement requirements and two will be working on First Class advancement requirements, he said.

The troop will have a family picnic supper Wednesday at 6:30 p.m., he said.

The camp program is planned by the camp staff, the scout masters and the boys themselves, according to Bob Bentley.

"We try to gear the program as individually as possible. We have all-camp activities, unit activities and individual activities. We want each boy to get what he wants and needs out of camping," he said.

"We have classes in swimming, archery, riflery, axemanship and conservation, among others. If a scoutmaster is particularly skilled in axemanship and he has taught his boys the skill, it would be silly to make that troop attend classes in axemanship. Maybe they need to concentrate more on swimming. So we plan their program with the activities they need," he said.

The scouts have free time, too, and a lot of them use the time for fishing.

"We had one boy catch a five-pound bass the other day," said Outlaw. "Others have caught some that weigh about two and a half pounds."

Some of the fish caught are used to help the boys in their merit badges, according to Bentley.

"Some of the boys cook the fish in fulfilling requirements for the Cooking merit badge. You might say the boys are living off the land," he said.

Don Harrington's camp site includes facilities for several activities; including swimming, riflery, archery, fishing, canoeing and outdoor cooking.

A hospital is provided with a full time first aider on duty. A Trading Post is provided for scouts to buy needed articles.

The boys live in tents, but troop lodges are available in case of extreme weather. No cooking is allowed in the lodges.

The scouts eat most of their meals in the camp dining hall, but they can cook out whenever they want to.

They spend much time working on camp improvement projects, such as building bridges, building unit camp entrances, setting up troop flag poles, building troop campfire circles and building conservation check dams.

In handicraft sessions, the boys work on wood carving, camp gadgets, moccasins, rope making, neckerchief slides, plaster casting and leaf printing.

Other activities find the boys working on compass projects, hiking, learning and practicing morse code with flashlights or flags and playing games from the Boy Scout handbook.

Other Canyon troops are planning to attend sessions at the 500-acre camp, including Troops 197, 108 and 31.

Canoeing instructor Gary McBride shows chaplain Craig Bellah and camper Pat Lummus of Dumas the proper way to handle a canoe.

Legion Team Wins

Canyon's American Legion team eased by the Dimmit Legion team 8-7 in a Sunday afternoon confrontation in Dimmitt.

Lynn Salmon, starting pitcher for the Legionnaires, was relieved in the sixth inning by Chief Keeling when the score stood at a 7-7 tie.

Keeling struck out the last four Dimmitt men and is credited with the win. Losing pitcher was Bob Baker.

Canyon tallied in the second inning, scored five times in the third, once in the fifth and once in the seventh. Dimmitt's scoring came with a run in the second inning, two in the third, one in the fifth and three in the sixth.

The Canyon Legion team will meet the Hereford team in Hereford on Sunday, 2:30 p.m.

Monday they will play the Tascosa Sheriffs at Babe Ruth Park in Canyon. Game time is 7:30.

Frank Is 'New Man' After Using Kidney Machine

An artificial kidney machine has made a "new man" of George Frank, formerly of Canyon.

He returned to his home in Hereford last week following a 4-month stay in Parkland General Hospital in Dallas where he underwent treatment for a serious kidney ailment.

Frank trained at Woodland Hospital, a branch of Parkland where he learned to operate his new kidney machine. Patients are required to learn the mechanics of the machine as are members of their families.

Mrs. Frank described the machine's operations as something like those of a washing machine.

The patient's blood is removed from an artery with an injection type needle, circulated through the machine, and returned to the body through another needle injected into a vein. The blood is purified of poisons and excess fluids during this six-hour process. Only one unit of blood, or less than a pint, is absent from the body at any time during the procedure.

Dr. Allen Hull, director of the urinal staff of Parkland, was instrumental in obtaining a federal grant for Frank's training machine and two years' supplies. The machine costs aprpoximately $3,000, but the expense of the supplies boosts the cost to around $20,000.

Frank must use the machine three times a week, and each time the "coil", a 30-foot strip of porous plastic material, costing $20, must be replaced.

Frank has scheduled checkups every two months in Dallas and in the meantime is under the direction of a local doctor.

Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Frank of 204 15th St.

Cadet Terry Vogel is presented a Certificate of Academic Distinction from Col. Charles Stribling III, Missouri Military Academy president, for "exhibiting sincere effort and achievement throughout the school year and on the final examination" in Spanish I. The award was presented at MMA's final awards assembly which was part of commencement weekend. MMA is a school for boys in grades 6-12.

Cadets Robert and Terry Vogel of Canyon were among the undergraduates receiving awards at Missouri Valley Academy's 81st annual commencement.

The 1,500 cadets and guests who gathered to see the school's 56 seniors and 50 eighth graders graduate heard Maj. Gen. Jack C. Fuson, assisstant deputy chief of staff for logistics, give the commencement address.

The general, a 1939 graduate of MMA, said the challenge facing cadets "is to utilize those principles of leadership taught you here at MMA in the meeting of your future responsibilities."

He took note of "public dissent and debate" but added "I would emphasize the point that criticism of any sort must come from the mind before it leaves the mouth. . . A critic must be competent before he becomes vocal."

Top honors at the commencement were won by Cadet David Kern of Webster Groves, Missouri, who was named valedictorian.

Following the awarding of diplomas by Col. Charles Stribling III, Academy president, the cadet corps marched to the Academy's front campus for final "au revoir" ceremonies.

Missouri Military Academy's program emphasizes academic excellence, physical fitness and leadership training through ROTC. Its extensive awards program is designed to encourage participation in all three areas.

Cadets Robert and Terry are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Vogel, 2507 8th Ave.

Terry received an Academic Distinction award for Spanish I.

Robert received a National Rifle Association Sharpshooter Medal. He is in the Junior School at the Academy.

new tri-mester scheduling that most colleges and universities will be moving to this fall, but no definite dates have been set, Mrs. Harper stated.

Mrs. Harper estimated that it will take "at least a year to get it ready, to get a script ready. It requires some filming. Almost like making a movie. Getting it ready will be difficult, but fun." Mrs. Harper is working on a script with assistance from Paul Green, author of the musical drama, 'TEXAS'.

Mrs. Harper stressed that ths show will be designed to use five or six people and will lend itself to presentation throughout the year for conventions and meetings, in addition to presentations at the Canyon.

In comparing the upcoming show with "Thundering Sounds of the West", the sound and light show where which preceded the 'TEXAS' production, she stated that large numbers of people were used in that production. "This would defeat our purpose. We learned a lot from 'Thundering Sounds'. What audiences will accept and what will inspire them which will help with preparation of this new script."

Mrs. Harper also noted that the Fine Arts Commission has alloted funds to the Heritage Foundation to purchase the services of touring groups. Under this program, the Amarillo Symphony will appear in "Starlight Concerts" two evenings this summer, July 19 and Aug. 2.

station average on protein content is 14 per cent, which he desccribed as not as good as last year. His report covered Consumer's operations in Canyon and at Ralph Switch.

At Umbarger Co-op, Henry Ramaekers described the wheat as "running pretty dry. A few wet loads have come in. But most are averaging 12-13 per cent moisture and 60 pounds per bushel. Most is dryland and some semi-irrigated. The purely irrigated is still green. They will begin cutting this at the end of the week."

Ramaekers noted that wheat tested stood at 15.20 protein content.

Average cuttings around the county are running from 11 bushels to 25 bushels per acre on dryland wheat.

some expenses had not been as great as predicted and that there had been more revenue received than expected.

A detailed report on the status of the building fund appears on page 6.

Resignation of high school Assistant Principal Lee Ash was accepted. Ash will become counsellor at Midland College next fall. A leave of absence was granted to Mrs. Lee Smith and Mrs. Georgia Guinn was re-employed.

Seven new faculty members were hired. Employment of J. W. King, Jr., as band director was ratified by the board. King has had outstanding results as director of the Hale Center Owl Band.

Also hired was Mrs. Juaniza Cross, special education; Mrs. Kay McBride, junior high school English; Mrs. Suzella Parsons, Rex Reeves Elementary; Mrs. Wilma Jean Jacobs, learning disabilities; Mrs. Betty Jean Weaver, subject to assignment; and James Wade, coaching staff.

Bob Phillips told the board that planting of grass on the football field would begin Wednesday. Grass also will be planted on the Rex Reeves and high school campuses.

The areas to be seeded have been fertilized with barn yard manure creating a stench over most of the town.

Buffalo Lake Faces Shortage Of Water

Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge is faced with the problem of a lack of water, according to refuge manager, Paul Ferguson.

"We haven't had enough rain to do any more than green up the pastures and settle the dust," Ferguson noted. Recent rains amounted to 1.5 inches, but fell directly overhead with no rain reported on the lake's watershed.

Ferguson said the Friona had reported an inch of moisture and Hereford 1.5, but that tailwater dams on the Tierra Blanca Creek and Frio Draw prevented anything from coming down into the lake. Boaters are having trouble getting in and out of the water.

Ferguson reports that picnic areas have been mowed, the areas are in good shape and that new facilities are being constructed. The area is being used by picnickers and boaters with a few people catching rough fish.

"We are getting favorable comments from the people who are visiting," Ferguson said.

He also noted that the lake is operating under a new program called the National Wildlife Refuge Fee System. Annual permits are available for $5 which allow the holder to enter participating wildlife refuges in all 50 states. Entry fee otherwise is $1 per vehicle. The Golden Eagle permit, which in the past would admit the holder to all national parks and forests, is no longer in effect.

Key Clubbers Get Charter

Canyon High School will have a Key Club for the first time this fall following the chartering of the group at the Kiwanis Club banquet tonight.

Key Club district chairman Dean Herring will present the charter to the group.

Officers of the organization will be Terry Trice, president; Bob Bullock, vice president; Bill Reynolds, secretary; and Billy Byrd, treasurer.

Installation of the new organization will be handled by Key Club Lt. Gov. Jim Daniel of Pampa.

Key Club Gov. Paul Jackson of Paris, Texas, will deliver the keynote address.

Employment Office Is Still In Operation

A Youth Employment Office, set up in May, is still operating out of Canyon High School, according to Hobart McDonald, Principal.

"We did not have as many students register as we did last year," McDonald said, "but we have placed almost all of the students who did."

Approximately 30 Canyon students have found work through the service. All of the boys registering have been placed.

"We are still having calls wanting boys for jobs. Some have been requests to drive tractors, hay wagons. We didn't have anyone we knew who wanted that kind of work," McDonald said.

Youngsters may still register with the service which will continue to operate until school opens in late August. Persons having jobs to offer may also contact Becky Wesley at the school office, 655-2168.

McDonald described the operation as more of a "clearing house". . .to make students aware of work available and to make employers aware of students available. They make their own agreements as to work, salary and working hours.

McDonald stated, "We still have a number of girls who are seeking jobs. The work they will do encompasses a lot of territory--everything from housecleaning to yardwork to baby sitting, from clerking in a store to farm work.

Junk Car Ordinance In Effect As Of May 21

The Canyon Police Department estimates 40-45 residents have been contacted concerning removal of junk cars within the city since passage of the Junk Car Ordinance by the City Commission, May 21.

Residents were given a 10-day grace period following ordinance passage to allow time for advertisement of the new law.

According to Jim Trosper of the Police Department, "We have made quite a few contacts and people are responding well. We have been allowing three days (72 hours) for removal of vehicles."

If vehicles are not removed in this period, owners will be filed on, according to Trosper.

The ordinance provides for a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $200. Thus far no filings have been made.
